Privacy Policy

Introduction

Purpose

At LBG (<https://www.lovebygemini.com>), we value your privacy. To put that into practice, we take reasonable steps toward protecting your privacy and managing your information.

This Privacy Policy describes the information we collect, where it comes from, how it's used, and how it is stored.

This Privacy Policy also includes information to help you understand how the choices you have can change the collection and usage of certain information and how you can contact us with questions or concerns.

By using this Website, contacting us, or providing any personal information, you signify your consent to this Privacy Policy, agree to comply with its terms, and consent to our collection and usage of your personal information as described in this Privacy Policy, in all cases subject to applicable law.

Scope

This Privacy Policy at <https://www.lovebygemini.com/privacy> applies only to our website at <https://www.lovebygemini.com> (the "Website") and to visitors and users of our Website. It does not apply to any information we collect through channels, online or offline, other than this Website, such as phone, email, or mail operations concerning our operations, products, or services, as well as non-Website marketing contacts with you.

For your convenience, this Website may contain links to other websites. This Privacy Policy does not apply to any third-party website or service, and you should review the privacy policies of those sites before using them because other websites may not treat information collected online in the same manner as we do. Those privacy policies may include information about how to view, edit, download, or remove information or how to opt-out of certain practices. We are not responsible for the privacy practices, advertising, products, or content of those websites.

Updates and Changes

If we decide to change our Privacy Policy, we will post those changes on this page at <https://www.lovebygeminicom.com/privacy>.

If you are concerned about how your personal information is used, please visit our Website often for this and other important announcements and updates.

Problems/Questions

If you have questions or concerns about our Privacy Policy, you may contact us at support@lovebygeminicom.com.

What Information We Collect

This section includes a general description of the type of information we may collect about you. Those who wish to communicate with us but do not wish to provide personally identifiable information through the Website may contact us through the address or phone numbers provided on our Website, or through our online chat function.

Information you provide to us

We collect some information that you provide directly to us through this Website.

We collect contact information you provide, including:

Name

Address

Phone Numbers

Email Address

We collect this information with your consent, to perform any contract you may have with us, and in service of our legitimate business interests.

We collect financial information you provide, including:

Credit/Debit Card Information

We collect this information with your consent, to perform any contract you may have with us, and in service of our legitimate business interests.

We collect other information you provide, including:

Contact information for third parties

Content of feedback, support, reviews

We collect this information with your consent, to perform any contract you may have with us, and in service of our legitimate business interests.

We collect other information that may identify you that you provide, including:

Username

Passwords

Social media profiles

Date of birth

Other authentication or identification data

We collect this information with your consent, to perform any contract you may have with us, and in service of our legitimate business interests.

We collect information about your usage of the Website that you provide, including:

Contact preferences

We collect this information with your consent, to perform any contract you may have with us, and in service of our legitimate business interests.

We do not seek to or intentionally collect sensitive information that you provide directly to us.

Information we collect about you

Even if you do not submit personal information through the Website, we gather navigational information about where visitors go on the Website and information about the technical efficiencies of our Website and services (such as time to connect to the Website or time to download pages). This information allows us to see which areas of our Website are most visited and helps us better understand the user experience. This data helps us improve the quality of the Website by recognizing and delivering more of the features, areas, and services our visitors prefer.

In this process of gathering information, we may collect personally identifiable and non-personally identifiable information (such as domain type, browser type and version, service provider and IP address, referring/exit pages, operating system, date/time stamp, and click-stream data). We collect this information to perform any contract you may have with us, and in service of our legitimate business interests.

We may also create and use electronic records to compile statistics about how our visitors collectively interact with our Website by collecting, aggregating, and using information from or about you such as data about the type of browser and operating system used, which web pages you view, the time and duration of your visits to our Website, the search queries you use on this Website, whether you clicked on any items or links on the Website, whether you have clicked on any links in any emails sent from us or third parties on our behalf, whether you have chosen to opt-out of certain services or information sharing, and whether you have viewed or ordered certain products or services, to improve our products and services. We collect this information to perform any contract you may have with us and in service of our legitimate business interests.

We may obtain information about you from outside sources. For example, we may obtain commercially available information about you from third parties, such as credit information to prevent fraud, or purchase email lists from third parties for advertising and marketing purposes. We collect this information to perform any contract you may have with us and in service of our legitimate business interests.

If you access the Website using a device, we may collect the following device data:

Device Type

Operating System

Unique device identifiers

Device settings

Geo-location data

IP addresses

Browser type

Browser ID

Clickstream data

User workflow progress

Other (text field)

We collect this information to perform any contract you may have with us and in service of our legitimate business interests.

Cookies

The Website uses a common browser feature known as a cookie, which assigns a unique identification to your computer browser and session. Cookies are typically stored on your computer's hard drive and are used to help maintain an expected user experience by tracking clicks as you go through the pages within our Website and informing the Website that each of your clicks comes from you individually when needed. We may also use cookies to tell us whether you have previously visited the Website. We may also use cookies that can be set by third parties with whom we have entered into agreements that may enable us to obtain analytic information about the use of our Website.

These third-party providers may also place cookies onto your computer. Those third-party cookies may enable us to obtain aggregate demographic information and user statistics about you and your preferences from these third-party sources as well as other information we have about you.

We collect this information with your consent in many cases, to perform any contract you may have with us, and in service of our legitimate business interests.

We may use any of these kinds of cookies:

Essential cookies - used for logins and account management

Performance cookies - used for analytics, including visitor tracking

Functionality cookies - used for preferences (time zone and language) and enhanced content

Targeting/advertising cookies - used by content partners or banner networks

You can choose to disable cookies through your individual browser options. There are browser settings that will set it not to accept cookies or to notify you if a cookie is sent so you can decide to accept it. There are other browser settings to remove cookies previously set. To know more detailed information about cookie management with specific web browsers, it can be found at the browsers' respective websites.

Features on the Website may not work correctly if you disable all cookies.

Surveys and promotions

When we conduct surveys or other promotions, we often request information from users. Users can decide whether or not to participate in any of these activities and to disclose or not disclose any requested information accordingly.

We may ask for information to help us understand you as a user, such as contact information, and all of our users, such as demographic information. We use this information to provide better services and options to you and to all our users.

We also use the information you provide to run our surveys and promotions. The information we collect may be used in additional ways, such as being shared with the sponsors or administrators of the survey or promotion.

We collect this information with your consent, to perform any contract you may have with us, and in service of our legitimate business interests.

Google ads, analytics, and other services

Google provides several different technologies to our Website in the course of serving our users. These services may include the use of cookies, which we've described elsewhere in this Privacy Policy. You may want to review the Google privacy and terms page on Advertising (<https://policies.google.com/technologies/ads>) to determine what options you may have to control collection and usage of your information.

Similarly, Google Analytics uses cookies and device identifiers in the course of providing its analytics. This, and other analytics software, tracks website usage (pages, forms, and files) and traffic (referring page, pages visited, and exit page) to help us understand how users use the Website. You may want to review the details on how Google Analytics collects and processes data at "How Google uses data when you use our partners' sites or apps" (<https://www.google.com/policies/privacy/partners/>).

We collect this information to perform any contract you may have with us and in service of our legitimate business interests.

We use analytics software to track website usage (pages, forms, and files) and traffic (referring page, pages visited, and exit page) to help us understand how users use the Website.

We use the following analytics tools:

Google Analytics

Each of these companies has its own privacy policy governing their use of data.

We collect this information to perform any contract you may have with us and in service of our legitimate business interests.

We use the following payment services companies:

Paypal

Each of these companies has its own privacy policy governing their use of data.

We collect this information with your consent, to perform any contract you may have with us, and in service of our legitimate business interests.

How We Share Personal Information

We do not share your personal information outside the Company except as required by law or as disclosed elsewhere in this Privacy Policy.

Location of Personal Information

We must, of course, store and process your data somewhere.

We store or process your data in these countries: United Kingdom

How We Secure Information

We believe in providing a safe and secure experience for all of our online visitors. To that end, we have implemented security measures to protect the information collected from you. We maintain reasonable physical and electronic safeguards designed to limit unauthorized access to your personally identifiable information and to protect you against the criminal misuse of that information.

While we use these security measures to protect your information, please remember that no data transmitted over the Internet or stored and used for business purposes can ever be completely secure. No security measures are perfect or impenetrable. We cannot guarantee:

that your information will only be viewed by approved people that information you share will remain private that information you share will not become publicly available

You can reduce the chances of these things happening by using a strong password, by not re-using passwords, and by protecting your devices against viruses and other malware.

Business Transactions

If we sell our assets or merge with another company, or if our company goes out of business, user information used by the business will be one of our assets that might be transferred to our successor. You consent to that successor's use of your information, subject to the terms of this Privacy Policy.

Access and Choice

Children's Personal Information

This Website is not intended to be used by children under the age of 13. Children under the age of 13 may not use or submit any information to the Website, and their guardians should not permit them to do so. The Company does not seek to or intentionally collect any personal information from children under 13. If such a child or their guardian alerts us, we will take reasonable steps to delete any such information as quickly as is practical.

JURISDICTION-SPECIFIC PROVISIONS

The provisions in the following sections reflect requirements of various legal jurisdictions that may apply to some users but not others. Because our users may access the Website from anywhere, we expend meaningful effort to comply with all of those laws to which we are subject. If you are not the intended subject of a particular section, then those terms will not apply to you or your usage of the Website.

US State Privacy Rights

If you are a resident of one of the US states below and the processing of personal information about you by the Website is subject to privacy laws that are specific to your state, you have certain rights with respect to that information, in all cases subject to state law. Some state privacy laws are relatively new, and so the correct interpretation of these laws is not yet settled in some cases. In those cases, we will make a good-faith effort to comply with the law.

COLORADO

This section applies only if you are a Colorado resident and we (1) (A) do business in Colorado or (B) produce products or services that are targeted to Colorado residents and (2) (A) during a calendar year, control or process personal data of at least 100,000 Colorado residents or (B) control or process personal data of at least 25,000 Colorado residents and derive revenue or receive a financial benefit from the sale of personal data.

You have the following rights:

1. A right of knowledge - you may ask that we confirm whether or not we are processing your personal data.
2. A right of access - you may ask to access your personal data we are processing; you may ask to receive a copy of the personal data that you previously provided to us in a portable and, to the extent technically feasible, readily usable format.
3. A right of correction - you may correct inaccuracies in your personal data, taking into account the nature of that data and the purposes of processing that data.

4. A right of deletion - you may ask that we delete personal data provided by or obtained about you.
5. A right of opt-out - you may opt out of the processing of the personal data for purposes of (1) targeted advertising, (2) the sale of personal data, or (3) profiling in furtherance of decisions that produce legal or similarly significant effects concerning you. You also have the right to opt out by using a universal opt-out mechanism that meets technical standards that will be established by the state attorney general.
6. A right to appeal - you have the right to appeal a company decision not to fulfill any of these requests.

We have the following related obligations, subject to applicable law:

1. Timely response to your requests.

We have to respond to your requests without undue delay, but in all cases within 45 days of receipt.

We may extend the response period once by 45 additional days when reasonably necessary, taking into account the complexity and number of your requests, so long as we inform you of any extension within the initial 45-day response period, together with the reason for the extension.

If we decline to take action on your request, we have to inform you without undue delay, but in all cases and at the latest within 45 days of receipt of the request, including the justification for declining to take action and instructions for how to appeal our decision.

In general, we will provide information in response to your requests without charge, up to once annually per user.

2. Appeal mechanism.

We have to establish a process for you to appeal our refusal to take action on a request within a reasonable period of time after your receipt of our decision not to take action.

We have to make the appeal process conspicuously available and similar to the process for submitting requests to initiate action. You may appeal our decision by replying to our decision or by making a new request for an appeal of that decision.

Within 45 days of receipt of an appeal, we have to inform you in writing of any action taken or not taken in response to the appeal, including a written explanation of the reasons for the decisions.

We may extend the response period once by 60 additional days when reasonably necessary, taking into account the complexity and number of your requests, so long as we inform you of any extension within the initial 45-day response period, together with the reason for the extension.

If the appeal is denied, we will also provide you with an online mechanism, if available, or other method through which you may contact the state attorney general to submit a complaint.

Under Colorado law, you have the option to opt-in to processing of your personal data for targeted advertising or the sale of personal data on the terms described in detail in this privacy policy. Even after you provide opt-in consent, you may withdraw your consent by using the opt-out procedures described in this privacy policy. This disclosure will also be included where you can opt-in as described in this paragraph.

We do not “sell” personal information as defined by Colorado law nor do we process your personal data for targeted advertising.

Please make any of your requests under Colorado law, as applicable, using one of these methods:

GDPR Privacy Rights

If you are a resident of one of the EU countries or other covered nations and the processing of personal information about you by the Website is subject to the GDPR, you have certain rights with respect to that information, in all cases subject to applicable law. Some questions of GDPR applicability to non-EU businesses are relatively new, and so the correct interpretation of these laws is not yet settled in some cases. In those cases, we will make a good-faith effort to comply with the law as applicable.

This section applies only if you are an EU resident and we (1) are established in the EU and a data controller or processor; (2) are processing personal data of data subjects who are in the EU, where the processing activities are related to: (a) the offering of goods or services, paid or free, to consumers in the EU; or (b) the monitoring of behavior that takes place within the EU. (GDPR or analogous rights and obligations also apply to persons in the EEA, UK, or Switzerland.)

You have the following rights:

1. A right of information - you may ask that we confirm whether or not we are processing your personal data.
2. A right of access - you may ask to access your personal data we are processing; you may ask to receive a copy of the personal data that you previously provided to us in a portable and machine-readable format.
3. A right of correction - you may correct incorrect, inaccurate, or incomplete personal data.
4. A right of deletion - you may ask that we delete personal data it's no longer needed or if processing it is unlawful.
5. A right of opt-out - you may opt out of the processing of the personal data for marketing purposes or on certain other grounds relating to your particular situation.
6. A right of restriction - you may request the restriction of the processing of your personal data in specific cases.

7. A right to human oversight of automated processing or decision-making, including a right of participation and a right to appeal.

Please make any of your requests under EU law, as applicable, using one of these methods:

We have the following related obligations, subject to applicable law:

1. Timely response to your requests.

We have to respond to your requests without undue delay and in any event within 1 month after receipt of the request. We may extend that period by two further months when necessary, taking into account the complexity and number of the requests. We have to inform you of any such extension within 1 month after receipt of your request, together with the reasons for the delay.

In general, we will provide information in response to your requests without charge, unless the requests are unfounded, excessive, or repetitive. In those cases, we may elect to refuse your request in the absence of payment of a reasonable fee.

2. We have the following obligations:

1. To process data lawfully, fairly and in a transparent manner
2. To process data in connection with limited purpose for which it was provided
3. To minimize the data collected in relation to the purpose of its processing
4. To keep data accurate and up to date
5. To limit storage of data when no longer needed
6. To keep data secure and protected against unauthorized or unlawful processing and against accidental loss, destruction or damage

3. If there's a data breach, we have to notify users "as quickly as possible." We have 72 hours to notify the appropriate supervisory authority. Note that if we are not established or operating in the EU, there is no applicable supervisory authority.

4. If we are required to appoint a data protection officer, we must also inform you of the identity and contact information for the data processing officer.

We have determined that we are not required to have a named Data Protection Officer. LBG will nevertheless respond to all requests in accordance with applicable law.
